Holiday Celebration

- Sally and a number of helpers set out a wonderful array of snacks and dessert treats. No one left the event hungry. We are all appreciative.
- The Show-And-Tell items were laid out on the tables in front of the stage. The members finally got a chance to show our spouses what it is we do and what is possible if we continue our diligent work in the shop. Hopefully now they appreciate how important it is that we remain undisturbed and well fed while we pursue our artistic endeavors. A number of the members talked about their pieces and the techniques and finishes used to create them.
- The Gift Exchange items were arrayed on the front edge of the stage. Each Member participating in the exchange presented their gift to the group at large. A drawing was subsequently held and the exchange took place with only minor pandemonium
